	With a look at Depression-era radios and fanciful period ads, this book is a semi-serious account of the 1938 War of the Worlds broadcast, illustrating passages from the script and descriptions of widespread panic with cartoon scenes featuring bug-eyed monsters. (K-Grade 3)	Paperback	$6.50
	With an appealing text and funny illustrations, this book transports aspiring space travelers to astronaut school in a nonfiction picture book. Take a ride on the "Vomit Comet" and learn how it feels to be weightless. Try a bite of astronaut food, such as freeze-dried ice cream. (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$13.50
		Paperback	$6.50
	Based on the true story of Pale Male, a red-tailed hawk who settled on the ledge of a swanky New York apartment. His admirers watch as he builds a nest, finds a mate, and teaches babies how to fly. A story of family, perseverance, and city living. (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$15
	Betty Skelton grew up in the 1930s when airplanes were new and exciting. When Betty set a goal, nothing slowed her down—especially not the idea that girls shouldn't fly. This biography highlights Betty's accomplishments in the air, on the racetrack, in the water, and training with NASA's astronauts. (Grade 1-5)	Hardcover	$13

Earmuffs for Everyone! 	When your ears are cold, you can wear earmuffs, but not Chester Greenwood. In 1873, earmuffs didn't exist! But during a cold Maine winter, Chester designed the first pair. And he didn't stop there. The Smithsonian declared Chester one of America's greatest inventors. (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$13.50
The Incredible Life of Balto 	The story of Balto, the famous dog who led his dogsled team through a blizzard to deliver a lifesaving serum to the people of Alaska in 1925. Balto shot to stardom—a statue of him still stands in Central Park. But what happened after the hoopla died down? This story captures the life of Balto beyond his celebrity days. (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$13
Pop! The Invention of Bubble Gum 	Gum has been around for centuries, but the best kind of gum—bubble gum—wasn't invented until 1928, when an enterprising young accountant at Flee Gum and Candy used his spare time to experiment with different recipes. Learn the history behind the pink perfection of Dubble Bubble. (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$12
Seabiscuit: The Wonder Horse 	Seabiscuit was the grandson of one of the greatest racehorses, but he'd lost almost every race he'd run. With the care of a new trainer and jockey, he started winning. As he prepared to face War Admiral, the top racehorse in the country, the nation wondered: Could Seabiscuit really beat the Triple Crown champion? (K-Grade 3)	Hardcover	$13
Strong Man: The Story of Charles Atlas 	He could tear books in half, bend iron bars, and pull a 145,000-lb train with his bare hands. But Charles Atlas wasn't always one of America's strongest men. Once he was a "97-lb weakling" who was picked on by bullies. The story of the man called "the World's Most Perfectly Developed Man." (K-Grade 3)	Paperback	$6.50
The Wildest Race Ever 	It was 1904 and St. Louis was proud to host America's First Olympics, which featured a marathon... 42 racers registered, 32 showed up and, of the 3 racers vying for the finish line, one drove part way, one was helped over the line, and one was a Cuban postman in street clothes. Find out who won this historic Marathon. (Grade 1-5)	Hardcover	$14
